FORMER LOCAL WOMAN DIES IN SEATTLE CRASH

Mrs. Helen M. Bream Irwin, 40, wife of Dr. George W. Irwin of Seattle, Wash., formerly of Gettysburg, was killed instantly in an automobile crash in the fog a mile from Seattle about 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. Irwin, who is a daughter of Mrs. Minnie Bream, Chambersburg street, and sister of Glenn L. Bream, West Broadway, was fatally hurt when she was thrown from an automobile driven by her husband as the car crashed head-on into a curve with a car occupied by three teenage boys. Two of the boys were killed and the third is in critical condition.

Dr. Irwin, a chiropractor, is critically hurt and a patient in a Seattle hospital where his condition Sunday night was described as slightly improved.

Other Car "Missed Curve"

Dr. and Mrs. Irwin, who had been spending the evening with friends about six miles from Seattle, were enroute home when the tragedy occurred. One of the machines rolled over and crushed Mrs. Irwin after she was thrown from her machine. She was a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1929 and was employed locally before going to Davenport. Her husband, who served in the army for three years during World War II, had built a clinic at Seattle after the war. He and Mrs. Irwin and her father-in-law operated the clinic. Dr. and Mrs. Irwin were married in 1942. She visited here in August.

TRIBUTE PAID TO FIREMEN AT MEMORIAL RITE

"To love one's neighbor, one must be ready to serve one's neighbor," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick P. McGee, pastor of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary church, McSherrystown, told members of the Adams County Firemen's association at the annual memorial services Sunday. The service was held at 2 o'clock in the Annunciation school hall, McSherrystown.

"Members of the Adams County Firemen's association do serve their neighbors. Their work is one of service, sacrifice and danger. They are the leading men in their communities, providing an example of service to others."

Cyclorama Skylight Damaged By Storm

Workmen were scheduled to begin repairs today to the roof of the cyclorama, which was damaged by wind and rain Friday night.

"The high winds broke the large skylight, hurling pieces of glass across the highway. A part of the tarpaper roof was also blown off."

Rain came through the roof and onto the floor of the interior. The large painting of Pickett's Charge suffered only slight damage, however, park officials said.

Child Fractures Left Leg In Fall

Richard E. Baldwin, aged eight years, 45 West Water street, was treated at the Warner hospital for a fracture of his lower left leg sustained in a fall while playing.

A splinter was removed from the right leg of Helen Naylor, 12, Aspers, which became imbedded when she fell against a piece of furniture.

STREET LIGHTS WILL BE TURNED ON WEDNESDAY

The Christmas lighting in the business district will be turned on at 7:30 Wednesday night, instead of tonight, Herbert Oyler, chairman of the Exchange club committee in charge of the lighting and decorations, announced today.

Judging of the store windows entered in The Gettysburg Times window decorating contest will take place next Saturday evening.

Both events were originally scheduled for last Saturday night and were postponed because of the inclement weather.

Mr. Oyler said there is still some work to be done on stringing the colored lights and making the necessary connections, but that unless weather interfered again it could be completed in time to turn the lights on Wednesday night.

Santa Is Coming

Glenn Guise, president of the Exchange club, is scheduled to throw the switch. The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce will have a Santa Claus and candy for the children in Lincoln Square in front of the Hotel Gettysburg.

The fire company will provide a truck and give Santa a ride around the borough before he takes his place in the square. Radio Station WGET is scheduled to broadcast the ceremony of turning on the lights and the arrival of Santa Claus.

The judging of store windows was postponed Saturday night because the condition of the highways prevented two of the judges from reaching Gettysburg.

ICY ROADS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS

Slippery roads and streets were blamed for several automobile accidents Saturday night and Sunday. Several persons were injured and taken to the Gettysburg and Hanover hospitals.

An automobile driven by Mrs. Georgia J. Ellis, 31, of Staunton, Va., struck two guard rail posts and overturned eight miles west of Gettysburg on the Lincoln highway at 4:40 p.m. Sunday, state police of the Gettysburg substation, reported. The icy highway caused the car to skid.

Mrs. Ellis suffered a fractured pelvis and fracture of a vertebra cord. William B. Lutz, Jr., 20, of Laurel Springs, N. J., also suffered a fractured pelvis and lacerations. They are patients in the Warner hospital.

Two Others Injured

Two others in the Ellis car were injured and brought to the hospital in the ambulance. They were treated and discharged. Yvonne Rushink, 21, of Nanticoke, Pa., suffered lacerations and contusions of the face, and James Ellis, 11, son of the driver, had a laceration of the face.

Four automobiles were involved in an accident on York street near Fourth street at 6:25 p.m. Saturday, according to a borough police report.

THREE HURT IN AUTO CRASHES HERE ON SUNDAY

Two persons were injured in an accident in Brunsdown at 12:55 o'clock Sunday morning, after an automobile had skidded and overturned, according to state police.

Ralph K. Costella, 36, of Hanover R. 2 was driving east. His car went into a skid on a slight curve and overturned, landing on its side.

Passengers were attempting to right the Costella car when an automobile driven by Charles A. Wagman, 23, of Baltimore, approached from the west. Costella and others attempted to "flag" Wagman, but he skidded and ran into the Costella car.

Costella and Ivan Rucker, 50, of Littlestown R. 2, who were standing back of Costella's car, were struck and knocked down. Rucker suffered lacerations of the face, head and brush burns. He was taken to the (Continued on Page 2)

226 Deaths Reported From Devastating Week-end Storm

(By The Associated Press)

The storm which mauled the whole northeastern section of the nation with record fury over the week-end had vanished today but grief, human misery and industrial paralysis lingered on.

At least 226 deaths were blamed on the devastating winds along the Atlantic seaboard and the heavy snow which fell as far south as Mississippi and Alabama. Damage in New England alone was estimated at $100,000,000, with threatened floods expected to add to the cost. Most of western Pennsylvania and northern Ohio still were digging out of snow which brought business to a virtual halt in such cities as Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus, Akron, Youngstown and Dayton.

108 Miles An Hour Wind

The wind which hammered parts of the Atlantic coast with a force of as much as 108 miles an hour at times was described by the Weather bureau as the worst ever to hit that region. It left many areas still without power service today and thousands still shivering without heat or lighting. Losses to boat owners were the heaviest since the 1938 hurricane.

The blow was accompanied by torrential rains which had sent some New England streams out of their banks. Some others were threatened to overflow. New York city, however, harvested a 25-day water supply. The city reservoir trapped 25 billion gallons, building up a needed reserve supply.

Resumption of normal business in the snow-bound sections of Pennsylvania and Ohio still was not in sight today.

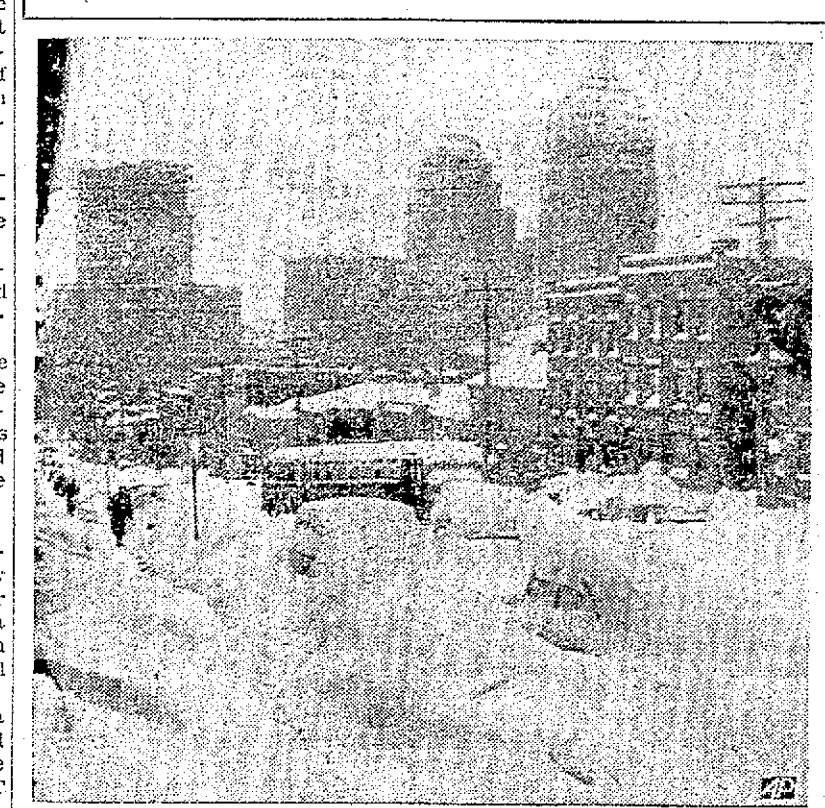

Transportation Crippled

Transportation facilities were too crippled to carry sufficient workers to their jobs. Many schools, including Penn State college, Bucknell, Juniata, Pittsburgh university, Duquesne university and Carnegie Tech in Pennsylvania all were closed for the day at least.

All public and parochial schools remained closed in Pittsburgh where the snowfall measured a record 27 inches, Mayor David Lawrence declared. (Continued on Page 2)

Father Of County Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea, R. 4, was called to Staten Island Sunday by the sudden death of her father, father, Frank J. Donahue, 76, a retired plumber.

Mrs. Killalea was notified of her father's sudden death by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Donahue, of Lowell, Mass. No particulars of her father's passing were received by the local woman who left this morning with her daughter, Patricia, for her late father's home.

The deceased resided at 153 Kismam avenue, Oakwood Heights, Staten Island. His wife died in 1934.

A. A. DUBBS, 59, COUNTY NATIVE, DIES SUDDENLY

Allen Arthur Dubbs, 59, a native of Adams county and formerly a tailor here, died at his home, 105 South Prince street, Shippensburg, Sunday morning at 7:15 o'clock. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Dubbs was a son of the late John Elmer Dubbs, and Mrs. Laura (Boyd) Dubbs, East Middle street. He was a member of the Memorial Lutheran church, Shippensburg. He was a past commander of the American Legion post at Shippensburg and was a member of the 40 and 8.

The deceased was a tailor in Gettysburg for many years, being employed at the Brehm tailor shop and later as a partner with John Pitzer in operating the Dubbs-Pitzer shop.

Surviving are his widow, the former Oneida Elizabeth Kneller, to whom he was married January 22, 1918; his mother; two sons, Allen A. Jr., Gettysburg, and William P. Shippensburg; three grandchildren; one brother, William H., Gettysburg, and one sister, Mrs. John A. Weinmayer, Philadelphia.

Funeral services Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. from the Van Scoy funeral home, Shippensburg, conducted by the Rev. John F. Sammel. Interment in the Spring Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

MISS PLUNKERT, JOHN ORNDORFF WED SATURDAY

Miss Madeline C. Plunkert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gleason H. Plunkert, North Queen street, Littlestown, and John B. Orndorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Orndorff, Gettysburg R. 5, were united in marriage on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, in St. John's Catholic church, Westminster. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis Willis, assistant pastor, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends of the couple.

$50,000 DAMAGE BY WIND, RAIN IN LITTLETOWN

It has been estimated that $50,000 worth of damage was done Friday night and Saturday morning in Littlestown and vicinity by the wind and rain storm. Many homes and other buildings in the community suffered a small amount of damage, mainly to their roofs. Some of the major losses were at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King, near Littlestown, where half of the metal barn roof was torn off by the raging wind. A portion of the house roof was also ripped off. The financial loss was not yet estimated.

A shed was blown from its foundation at the former Frank L. Mathias farm, near Littlestown, now owned by Charles Ritter, South Queen street.

Much of the glass show window at Paul Schevert's Kaiser-Frazer garage, near Littlestown, was broken. Many of the windows at the home of Mrs. Annie Kelly were also broken by the wind. Windows at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nester, Lumber street, were broken early Saturday morning when part of the roof from the I. H. Crouse and Son lumber storage building, on the adjoining lot, blew into their home.

WOLFORD FINED $250; SUSPEND JAIL SENTENCE

Albert L. Wolford, Delray Beach, Fla., former Gettysburg policeman and service station operator, was given a suspended sentence by the Adams county court Saturday afternoon.

He was placed on probation one year, ordered to make restitution, pay $250 for use of the county and the costs and post bail of $1,500.

Wolford had been found guilty by a county jury Saturday morning of charges of violation of the bulk sales act by making out a false affidavit in connection with the sale of his Buford avenue service station in 1948.

Wolford was arrested Saturday afternoon on a warrant from York county, shortly after he had posted bond on the Adams county case. He appeared in York county court this morning on the charge of being in arrears on a $5 a week support order for a child. He was released after posting bond to keep those payments current.

STORM BRINGS BUSY WEEKEND FOR TROOPERS

The effects of the storm Saturday and Sunday were felt in a variety of ways in Gettysburg and vicinity.

For the state police of the Gettysburg substation, Sunday, Sunday night and today were among the busiest times this office has ever experienced, the troopers reported.

Scores of telephone calls poured into the substation seeking information about road conditions. Numerous persons were "stranded" here because of impassable highways.

Those whose destinations were north of Harrisburg were held up by high waters of the Susquehanna river between Harrisburg and Williamsport. Both routes on the east and west banks of the river were closed.

Hunters Delayed

West of Gettysburg traffic was halted at Irwin by snowdrifts on both the Lincoln highway and the turnpike, and all traffic was being turned back.

The storm forced cancellation of many hunting trips. Several parties had planned to leave for Potter and other northern Pennsylvania counties Saturday afternoon and Sunday. They were still in Gettysburg, waiting for the high waters to recede.

The state police teletype and its short wave radio set were in almost constant use Saturday, Sunday and today, reporting and clearing weather information.

Business Spurts

Sections of Pennsylvania not so hard hit by the snow storm provided aid to the western part of the state. A large snowplow owned by the state highway department passed through Gettysburg Sunday evening enroute to the Pittsburgh area from Lancaster.

Local garages and service stations reported a big demand for tire chains and antifreeze Saturday night when the temperature dropped.

Tourists Come Here Despite Weather

Sunday was not a day which would ordinarily be considered good for the tourist business in Gettysburg, but in spite of the inclement weather, which included light snowfall and slippery roadways, a number of motorists went over the battlefield and visited the National cemetery, according to park officials. There were a number of guided trips, in spite of the weather.

CINDER CREWS BUSY

Cinder crews of both the state highway department, Fairfield road, and the borough highway department were out Saturday night and again Sunday.

Postpone Xmas Window Judging

The rain and wind storm played havoc with the Christmas window display contest in Gettysburg and judging had to be postponed when two of the out-of-town judges were unable to make the trip here.

In addition to this unavoidable delay the judges would have difficulty judging the windows because, in most instances, steam had clouded the glass fronts to such an extent as to make visibility from the outside almost impossible.

The judging will take place next Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Merchants are urged to keep their windows intact and in event of inclement weather next Saturday to make every effort possible to keep their windows from steaming.

The regular meeting of the Adams County Senior Extension club will be held Thursday night at the Biglerville grade school building at 8 o'clock. President Roland Kime will preside. Allies Facing Full Collapse Of Offensive Against Reds

Tokyo, Nov. 27 (AP)—Complete collapse of the United Nations end-the-war offensive was threatened today by heavy new Chinese attacks on the frozen northwest Korean front.

The U. S. 24th Division, its right flank imperiled by infiltrating Red forces, pulled back from Chongju near the west coast.

It was the second time this month that the battle-hardened Americans were forced to give up without a fight the rail and highway city 51 miles south of the Manchurian border.

All along the northwest front, Allied forces were shoved back by elements of two Chinese Red armies—more than 100,000 men. Swarms of Chinese attacked in pre-dawn darkness to the blare of bugles.

Situation Is Confused

A spokesman described the situation as "quite confused."

Field dispatches said the eastern anchor of the line, Tokchon, had fallen to the Reds.

In the northeast, a surprise tank-led Red attack forced back South Koreans advancing north of Chongjin, some 55 miles south of the Soviet Siberian border.

Stiffening Red resistance was reported elsewhere in the northeast. U. S. Marines, pushing westward in a drive from Changjin reservoir, were halted by dug-in Chinese four miles west of Yudam.

On the northwest front, the 24th Division's withdrawal from Chongju was forced by Chinese slipping through the Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division lines southwest of Taechon. The 24th Division itself was not under attack.

On the ROK First Division's right flank, the U. S. 25th and Second Divisions battled the Chinese fiercely throughout Monday.

Yanks Are Hit Hard

A U. S. First Corps spokesman said the 25th was hit hard in the Majon area, six miles northeast of Yongbyon. He said the situation there was critical.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the U. S. 25th Division, sized up the situation this way:

"The big United Nations offensive to bring an early end to the Korean war was threatened with complete collapse today. This was the stark reality of the situation after 48 hours of savage fighting.

"Chinese and North Korean troops have dealt a stunning blow to United Nations forces. The offensive that rolled forward for two days has been stopped cold. U.N. troops are on the defensive after giving up most of their gains."

130,000 Enemy Force

Reserve units of Americans, British and Turks were rushed up to bolster a sagging 30-mile eastern section of the winding 80-mile front stretching inland from the Yellow sea. The front runs from 40 to 60 miles south of the Manchurian border.

An estimated 130,000 Reds—most of them Chinese in quilted winter uniforms—began the counter-assault late Saturday night.

Republic of Korea (ROK) troops and the U. S. Second and 25th Divisions bore the brunt of the attacks, which continued with increasing fury Sunday night.

Correspondent Lief Erickson said the American divisions stopped the second night attacks in the center of the line after earlier withdrawals of several miles.

JOSEPH TO SPEAK

Donald Joseph, director for the Gettysburg Recreation association, will be the speaker for the dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club this evening at 6 o'clock at the Shelter House. He will also show the film, "Playtown, U.S.A." The club chorus will rehearse at Christ Lutheran church after the meeting.

"To love one's neighbor, one must be ready to serve one's neighbor," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary church, McSherrystown, told members of the Adams County Firemen's association at the annual memorial services at the annual memorial services at the McSherrystown.

"Members of the Adams County Firemen's association do serve their neighbors. Their work is one of service, sacrifice and danger. They are the leading men in their communities, providing an example of service to others."

Vacant Chairs Draped
The stage of the hall contained 22 vacant chairs draped in black for the 22 deceased members, against a background of palms. One hundred and fifty firemen attended the services, in charge of Eugene A. Murren, chairman; Leon Leppo, John Murren, John L. Sneeringer and Wayne Arnold.

The program included prelude, "Onward Christian Soldiers"; invocation, Rev. Howard W. Bock, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, McSherrystown; hymn; scripture, Rev. Bock; prayer, Rev. Harold E. Keller, pastor of Sacred Heart church, Conewago Chapel; hymn; song by a male chorus from Annunciation church choir; memorial (Continued on Page 3)

Cyclorama Skylight Damaged By Storm

Workmen were scheduled to begin repairs today to the roof of the cyclorama, which was damaged by wind and rain Friday night.

The high winds broke the large skylight, hurling pieces of glass across the highway. A part of the tarpaper roof was also blown off. Rain came through the roof and onto the floor of the interior. The large painting of Pickett's Charge suffered only slight damage, however, park officials said.

STREET LIGHTS WILL BE TURNED ON WEDNESDAY

The Christmas lighting in the business district will be turned on at 7:30 Wednesday night, instead of tonight, Herbert Oyler, chairman of the Exchange club committee in charge of the lighting and decorations, announced today.

Judging of the store windows entered in The Gettysburg Times window decorating contest will take place next Saturday evening.

Both events were originally scheduled for last Saturday night and were postponed because of the inclement weather.

Mr. Oyler said there is still some work to be done on stringing the colored lights and making the necessary connections, but that unless weather interfered again it could be completed in time to turn the lights on Wednesday night.

Santa Is Coming

Glenn Guise, president of the Exchange club, is scheduled to throw the switch. The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce will have a Santa Claus and candy for the children in Lincoln Square in front of the Hotel Gettysburg.

The fire company will provide a truck and give Santa a ride around the borough before he takes his place in the square. Radio Station WGFT is scheduled to broadcast the ceremony of turning on the lights and the arrival of Santa Claus.

The judging of store windows was postponed Saturday night because the condition of the highways prevented two of the judges from reaching Gettysburg.

ICY ROADS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS

Slippery roads and streets were blamed for several automobile accidents Saturday night and Sunday. Several persons were injured and taken to the Gettysburg and Hanover hospitals.

An automobile driven by Mrs. Georgia J. Ellis, 31, of Staunton, Va., struck two guard rail posts and overturned eight miles west of Gettysburg on the Lincoln highway at 4:40 p.m. Sunday, state police of the Gettysburg substation reported. The icy highway caused the car to skid.

Mrs. Ellis suffered a vertebrae pelvis and fracture of a vertebra. William B. Lutz, Jr., 20, of Laurel Springs, N. J., also suffered a fractured pelvis and lacerations. They are patients in the Warner hospital.

Two Others Injured

Two others in the Ellis car were injured and brought to the hospital in the ambulance. They were treated and discharged. Yvonne Rushalk, 21, of Nanticoke, Pa., suffered lacerations and contusions of the face, and James Ellis, 11, son of the driver, had a laceration of the face.

Four automobiles were involved in an accident at 9:25 p.m. Saturday on an incident on York street near Fourth street at 9:25 p.m. Saturday, according to a borough police report.

THREE HURT IN AUTO CRASHES HERE ON SUNDAY

Two persons were injured in an accident in Brunshtown at 12:55 o'clock Sunday morning, after an automobile had skidded and overturned, according to state police.

Ralph K. Costella, 36, of Hanover R. 2 was driving east. His car went into a skid on a slight curve and overturned, landing on its side.

Passersby were attempting to right the Costella car when an automobile driven by Charles A. Wageman, 23, of Baltimore, approached from the west. Costella and others attempted to "flag" Wageman, but he skidded and ran into the Costella car.

Costella and Ivan Rucker, 50, of Littlestown R. 2, who were standing back of Costella's car, were struck and knocked down. Rucker suffered lacerations of the face, head and bruise burns. He was taken to the (Continued on Page 2)

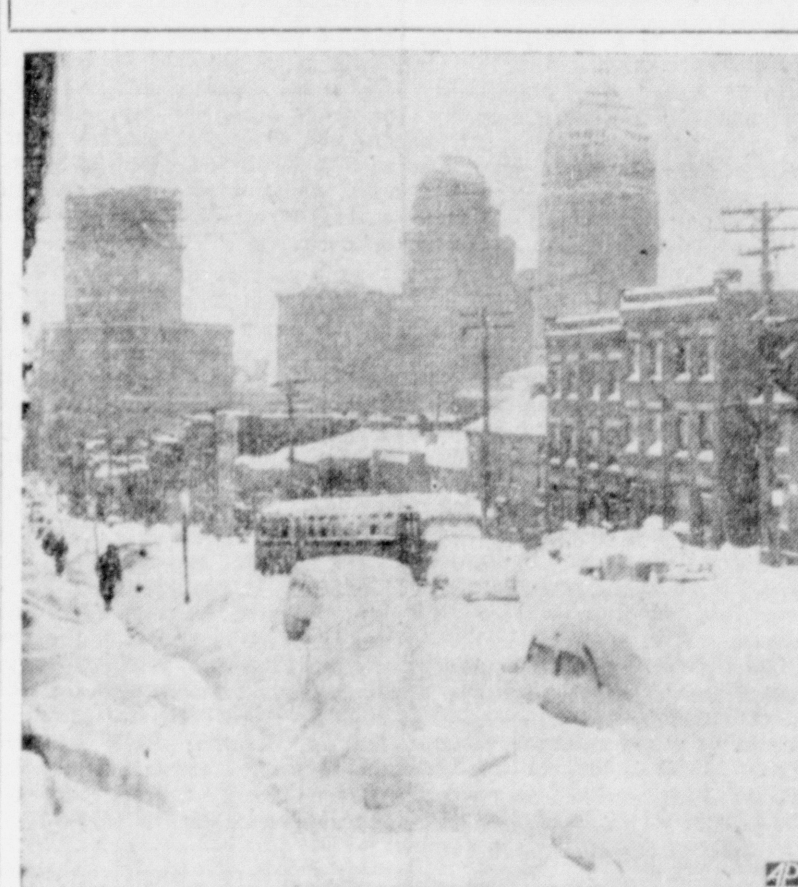

Child Fractures Left Leg In Fall

Richard E. Baldwin, aged eight years, 45 West Water street, was treated at the Warner hospital for a fracture of his lower left leg sustained in a fall while playing.

226 Deaths Reported From Devastating Week-end Storm

(By The Associated Press)
The storm which mauled the whole northeastern section of the nation with record fury over the week-end had vanished today but grief, human misery and industrial paralysis lingered on.

At least 226 deaths were blamed on the devastating winds along the Atlantic seaboard and the heavy snow which fell as far south as Mississippi and Alabama. Damage in New England alone was estimated at $100,000,000, with threatened floods expected to add to the cost. Most of western Pennsylvania and northern Ohio still were digging out of snow which brought business to a virtual halt in such cities as Akron, Cleveland, Columbus, Pitts, Youngstown and Dayton.

108 Miles An Hour Wind

The wind which hammered parts of the Atlantic coast with a force as much as 108 miles an hour at times was described by the Weather bureau as the worst ever to hit that region. It left many areas still without power service today and thousands still shivering without heat or

PFC. KAUFFMAN IS MISSING IN KOREAN ACTION

Pfc. Edgar Kauffman, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kauffman, Gardner, has been "missing in action" in Korea since September 10, according to a telegram received by his mother from the War Department.

Pfc. Kauffman, with the Second Division in Korea since August, received his training at Fort Lewis, Washington. He attended Biglerville high school and is a brother of Earl H. Kauffman, 147 West Middle street.

Kauffman is the third countian to have been reported as missing in action in Korea. So far five countians have lost their lives in Korea, Cpl. William M. Baumgardner, Cpl. Edward Francis Fuhrman, Cpl. Edwin E. Hartlaub, Cpl. William G. Weaver and Pvt. Fred K. Myers.

Pfc. Kauffman is the only countian listed as missing in action. Five countians have been wounded in the Korean war so far: S-Sgt. Francis X. Little, Pfc. Kenneth B. Klinedinst, Cpl. Grant E. Bigham, Lt. George E. Sheffer and Sgt. Clarence A. Hall.

Orndorff, of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Orndorff, Gettysburg R. 5, were united in marriage on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, in St. John's Catholic church, Westminster. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis Wills, assistant pastor, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends of the couple.

Business Spurts

Sections of Pennsylvania not so hard hit by the snow storm provided aid to the western part of the state. A large snowplow owned by the state highway department passed through Gettysburg Sunday evening enroute to the Pittsburgh area from Lancaster.

Local garages and service stations reported a big demand for tire chains and antifreeze Saturday night when the temperature dropped.

Tourists Come Here Despite Weather

Sunday was not a day which would ordinarily be considered good for the tourist business in Gettysburg, but in spite of the inclement weather, which included light snowfall and slippery roadways, a number of motorists went over the battlefield and visited the National cemetery, according to park officials. There were a number of guided trips, in spite of the weather.

Highway crews of both the state highway department, Fairfield road, and the borough highway department were out Saturday night and again Sunday.

$50,000 DAMAGE BY WIND, RAIN IN LITTLETOWN

It has been estimated that $50,000 worth of damage was done Friday night and Saturday morning in Littlestown and vicinity by the wind and rain storm. Many homes and other buildings in the community suffered a small amount of damage, mainly to their roofs. Some of the major losses were at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King, near Littlestown, where half of the metal barn roof was torn off by the raging wind. A portion of the house roof was also ripped off. The financial loss was not yet estimated.

A shed was blown from its foundation at the former Frank L. Mathias farm, near Littlestown, now owned by Charles Ritter, South Queen street.

Much of the glass show window at Paul Scheivert's Kaiser-Prazer garage, near Littlestown, was broken. Many of the windows at the home of Mrs. Annie Kelly were also broken by the wind. Windows at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nester, Lumber street, were broken early Saturday morning when part of the roof from the I. H. Crouse and Son lumber storage building, on the adjoining lot, blew into their home.

Roofs Torn Off

More damage to roofs was done at the Keystone Cabinet plant, Sneeringer's cement block plant, the residence of Dr. Philip Zulick, East King street, a portion of the roof at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crouse in addition to the one-car garage, which was ripped from its foundation and demolished. Half of the roof of the home owned by William Sneeringer, Crouse Park, was blown off. Much of the glass roofing and sides of Koon's florist, greenhouse was destroyed and smashed in, on Prince street. Much of the hay and straw in the barn at the William Lippy farm, along the Littlestown-Taneytown highway, was (Continued on Page 3)

STORM BRINGS BUSY WEEKEND FOR TROOPERS

The effects of the storm Saturday and Sunday were felt in a variety of ways in Gettysburg and vicinity.

For the state police of the Gettysburg substation, Sunday, Sunday night and today were among the busiest times this office has ever experienced, the troopers reported.

Scores of the telephone calls poured into the substation seeking information about road conditions. Numerous persons were "stranded" here because of impassable highways.

Those whose destinations were north of Harrisburg were held up by high waters of the Susquehanna river between Harrisburg and Williamsport. Both routes on the east and west banks of the river were closed.

Hunters Delayed

West of Gettysburg traffic was halted at Irwin by snowdrifts on both the Lincoln highway and the turnpike, and all traffic was being turned back.

The storm forced cancellation of many hunting trips. Several parties had planned to leave for Potter and other northern Pennsylvania counties Saturday afternoon and Sunday. They were still in Gettysburg, waiting for the high waters to recede.

The state police teletype and its short wave radio set were in almost constant use Saturday, Sunday and today, reporting and clearing weather information.

Postpone Xmas Window Judging

The rain and wind storm played havoc with the Christmas window display contest in Gettysburg and judging had to be postponed when two of the out-of-town judges were unable to make the trip here.

In addition to this unavoidable delay the judges would have difficulty judging the windows because, in most instances, steam had clouded the glass fronts to such an extent as to make visibility from the outside almost impossible.

The judging will take place next Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Merchants are urged to keep their windows intact and in event of inclement weather next Saturday to make every effort possible to keep their windows from steaming.

WOLFORD FINED $250; SUSPEND JAIL SENTENCE

Albert L. Wolford, Delray Beach, Fla., former Gettysburg policeman and service station operator, was given a suspended sentence by the Adams county court Saturday afternoon.

He was placed on probation one year, ordered to make restitution, pay $250 for use of the county and the costs and post bail of $1,500.

Wolford had been found guilty by a county jury Saturday morning of charges of violation of the bulk sales act by making out a false affidavit in connection with the sale of his Buford avenue service station in 1948.

Wolford was arrested Saturday afternoon on a warrant from York county, shortly after he had posted bond on the Adams county case. He appeared in York county court this morning on the charge of being in arrears on a $5 a week support order for a child. He was released after posting bond to keep those payments current.

Burglars Sentenced

John Junior Putt, Shiremanstown, and John S. Michaels, Harrisburg, were given sentences of six to 12 months, starting October 15, and ordered to pay the costs on charges of burglary and larceny. The two were charged with stealing guns from the Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods agency and planning to use the guns in the robbery. Victor Eugene Sanger, Etters R. 1, who was captured with Putt and Michaels, and who was charged with carrying a deadly weapon, was given a 60-day sentence starting October 15 and ordered to pay the costs.

Sander said he was not with the two Harrisburg area men when they stole the pistols, having joined the two later when they planned the robbery.

John Henry Laughman, Springs Grove R. 2, was sentenced to from six to 12 months beginning September 25 on a charge of burglary and larceny and was given a similar sentence to run concurrently on another burglary and larceny charge. He was ordered to pay the costs in both cases. James Kellogg Rorer, Hanover R. 2, who was charged with Laughman on one of the burglary and larceny cases, was given from three to six months in jail and directed to pay the costs.

David T. Markel, Hanover; Thomas M. Wege, Littlestown R. 2, appeared before the court for sentence (Continued on Page 7)

Senior Extension Club Will Meet

The regular meeting of the Adams County Senior Extension club will be held Thursday night at the Biglerville grade school building at 8 o'clock. President Roland Kime will preside. Among the business to be discussed will be the possibility of staging a radio broadcast once or twice a month over the farm program on Radio Station WGFT. A panel discussion will be held on "How to Be a Good Host or Hostess" with the members of the panel including Alice Plank, Richard Weaver and Doris Coshun.

JOSEPH TO SPEAK

Donald Joseph, director for the Gettysburg Recreation association, will be the speaker for the dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club this evening at 6 o'clock at the Shelter House. He will also show the film, "Playtown, U.S.A." The club luncheon will rehearse at Christ Lutheran church after the meeting.

COP'S CAR DAMAGED

An automobile owned by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, and operated by Albert L. Wolford, Delray Beach, Fla., struck a parked automobile on Baltimore street Saturday night, police said. Damage was slight.

Allies Facing Full Collapse Of Offensive Against Reds

Tokyo, Nov. 27 (AP)—Complete collapse of the United Nations offensive against the Chinese was threatened today by heavy new Chinese attacks on the frozen northwest Korean front.

The U. S. 24th Division, its right flank imperiled by infiltrating Red forces, pulled back from Chongju near the west coast.

It was the second time this month that the battle-hardened Americans were forced to give up without a fight the rail and highway city 51 miles south of the Manchurian border.

All along the northwest front, Allied forces were shoved back by elements of two Chinese Red armies—more than 100,000 men. Swarms of Chinese attacked in pre-dawn darkness to the blare of bugles.

Situation Is Confused
A spokesman described the situation as "quite confused."

Field dispatches said the eastern anchor of the line, Tokchon, had fallen to the Reds.

In the northeast, a surprise tank-led Red attack forced back South Koreans advancing north of Chongju, some 55 miles south of the Soviet Siberian border.

Stiffening Red resistance was reported elsewhere in the northeast. U. S. Marines, pushing westward in a drive from Chongjin reservoir, were halted by dug-in Chinese four miles west of Yudam.

On the northwest front, the 24th Division's withdrawal from Chongju was forced by Chinese slipping through the Republic of Korea (ROK) First Division lines southwest of Taechon. The 24th Division itself was not under attack.

On the ROK First Division's right flank, the U. S. 25th and Second Divisions battled the Chinese fiercely throughout Monday.

Yanks Are Hit Hard

A U. S. First Corps spokesman said the 25th was hit hard in the Majong area, six miles northeast of Yongbyon. He said the situation there was critical.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the U. S. 25th Division, sized up the situation this way:

"The big United Nations offensive to bring an early end to the Korean war was threatened with complete collapse today. This was the stark reality of the situation after 48 hours of savage fighting."

"Chinese and North Korean troops have dealt a stunning blow to United Nations forces. The offensive that rolled forward for two days has been stopped cold. U.N. troops are on the defensive after giving up most of their gains."

130,000 Enemy Force
Reserve units of Americans, British and Turks were rushed up to bolster a sagging 30-mile eastern section of the winding 80-mile front stretching inland from the Yellow sea. The front runs from 40 to 60 miles south of the Manchurian border.

An estimated 130,000 Reds—most of them Chinese in quilted winter uniforms—began the counter-attack late Saturday night.

minutes later. He pictured the tragedy here if he happened to trip and not be able to get up promptly, or if he should delay backing the car out. With all the carbon monoxide concentration he could easily be trapped.

It is amazing in this day and age how little appreciation the public has of the danger in this insidious, tasteless, odorless and colorless gas.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Can you tell me what would cause a bumping action in my car? Wheels and tires have been balanced. One mechanic even checked for an eccentric wheel.—H. L. F.

A. This could be due to badly worn universal joints.

Q. Since having the engine overhauled the hydraulic valve lifter seemed to allow the valve to lift noisy.—Wm. L. B.

A. You will find that this is due to the light oil used while breaking in the reworked job. Your mechanic has used light oil to take care of this, but the oil is too light for these special tappets. When you start using the normally heavier oil I feel sure that the clicking will cease.

Q. The other day the engine of my car refused to crank. The car was pushed to a filling station for a battery check-up and while waiting there I tried the starter and found it working normally. The battery tested fully charged.—J. R. Jr.

A. This suggests a poor ground or a damaged starter cable. There can also be starter failure if the cable is not tightly connected to the starter post.

Q. I do not seem to be getting the same gas mileage around town as I did several years ago, even though the carburetor has been rebuilt and the whole engine tuned up. It does not seem to me that the car should age enough to cause this mileage drop.—N. B. L.

A. You will find that this is largely due to increased motor traffic, more lights, more stops.

Q. What would cause the brakes of my car to knock when I apply them? It seems to me that the trouble is with the left front brake, but I am not sure. The knock is very decided—almost like a hammer blow.—R. T. McB.

A. This is probably due to a scored brake drum. In other words, the drum involved has ridges out into it and the brake shoes actually screw inward until they strike. This gives the knocking sound.

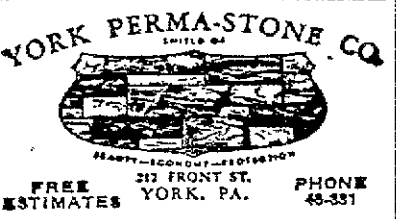

Q. There is a most peculiar clicking noise in my car when slowing down. I have eliminated the motor because the noise appears when the clutch is engaged or disengaged.

—K. C.
A. Again the universal joints are involved. They are badly worn and should be replaced.

Q. Recently there is a very decided exhaust noise at the engine of my car. It sounds something like a mild cut-out. I do not smell any gas. The muffler was recently replaced.—N. V. F.

A. This indicates an exhaust manifold gasket leak. It could have been hastened by handling of the exhaust pipe when installing the new muffler.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Storms Burns Out Most Street Lights

The Friday night storm whipped high voltage lines across wires serving Gettysburg's overhead street lighting system and knocked out more than half of the street lights in town, Richard E. Dreas, local Metropolitan Edison company manager, said today.

When 4,600-volt lines were snapped by the high winds they dropped across the service lines, burning out more than 150 of the town's 225 overhead lights. Thirty were burned out in Fairfield in a similar manner.

Dreas and his local crew completed line repairs by 11 p.m. Saturday. On Sunday three men were kept here to replace the burned out street light bulbs and all others available were sent to York to aid in storm damage repair work there. They continued to work there today.

"YW" SOLICITORS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Sewell Kapp, chairman of the YWCA drive for Biglerville, today announced those who are assisting her in the campaign in that borough.

The canvassers will include Eileen Tipton, Mrs. Sarah Sunbury, Miss Louise Nary, Mrs. Beulah Schaeffer and Mrs. Kapp. They plan to visit every home in the Biglerville area to seek donations toward the YWCA.

Mrs. Kapp noted that "the YWCA plays a very definite part in the life of all of us, whether we belong to any of the organizations that use it or not. I think most of us have at one time or another used the YWCA as a place to rest while in Gettysburg, or as a place to stay while waiting for the arrival of friends or of a car."

"One service of the YWCA is worth a donation—the service the YWCA serves by simply being there for our use when needed. The current drive is being held to pay off approximately $2,000 which was spent to renovate completely the YWCA building to make it more attractive and more convenient for our use."

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Gilbert, Biglerville, spent Thanksgiving day with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maddox, Lancaster. While in Lancaster they saw the Franklin and Marshall-Gettysburg football game. Mr. and Mrs. Maddox visited Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert on Saturday. They were accompanied to Biglerville by Miss Donna Gilbert, who had been visiting with them since Thursday.

All bus service in the city was snowbound and only partial trolley service had been resumed today.

With more snow forecast for today, Gov. James H. Duff declared an emergency in 17 western counties and declared today and tomorrow legal holidays there so that the banks could remain closed.

The shutdown in Ohio was more widespread. There, too, banks and schools remained closed and transportation stalled as crews bored through snow drifts as deep as 23 feet in some places in clearing the highways.

The cost of industrial shutdowns in Cleveland alone was estimated at $10,000,000 a day. The snowfall there was more than 20 inches. Only a few buses are operating.

Nothing more than light snow flurries was predicted for today.

Light snow was reported today from the Great Lakes region to the Ohio Valley and the Appalachians. Temperatures generally had moderated or were climbing over most of the nation. Some rain was reported in northern New England and along the west coast from northern California into Oregon and Washington.

PITT TO MEET PENN STATE 11 NEXT SATURDAY

Philadelphia, Nov. 27 (AP)—Except for the postponed game between Pitt and Penn State, Pennsylvania's collegiate football season came to a snowy, windy end over the week-end.

The traditional meeting between Pitt and Penn State was snowed out Saturday and rescheduled for today, but the threat of more snow caused officials to move the date back a second time. Now the game is set for next Saturday at Pitt stadium.

Seranton just about lost all hope of a post-season bowl bid by dropping a 12-0 decision to Niagara yesterday. The game was another originally scheduled for Saturday and postponed one day because of the week-end storms.

Seranton has been in the running for a bid to the Tangerine bowl at Orlando, Fla. The Royals had been unbeaten in college competition this season, losing only to the Quantico Marines.

Penn—a two touchdown pre-game favorite—was bogged down in the mud at Franklin field on Saturday and lost to Cornell 13-6. Penn Captain Francis (Reds) Bagnell picked up 41 yards rushing but was dropped for 25 yards loss in attempting to pass. He needed a net gain of 24 yards to set a new intercollegiate offensive record and missed by eight yards.

The game was played in a driving rain with high winds playing all sorts of tricks with the ball. The field was a quagmire.

Temple dropped a 26-21 decision to Holy Cross in a game played at Worcester, Mass., amid rain and wind gusts ranging up to 43 miles per hour. Holy Cross outscored the Owls 325 to 64 yards but Temple held its own thanks to an air attack advantage of 97 to 57 yards.

LOWDER LEADS STATE SCORERS

Philadelphia, Nov. 27 (AP)—Halfback Jack Lowder of the unbeaten-united Franklin and Marshall Diplomats reigned today as the 1950 scoring champion of Pennsylvania.

Lowder amassed 78 points on 13 touchdowns in nine games for F. and M. to defeat four other players by six points in a hot, season-long race for scoring honors.

One touchdown behind Lowder were Gene Caterina of Temple, Lehigh's touchdown twins, Dick Gabriel and Dick Lehigh, and Dickinson's Wilbur Gobrecht.

Thirteen players scored more than 50 points.

Champ Jockies To Battle At Bowie

Bowie, Md., Nov. 27 (AP)—Wee Willie Shoemaker, the wordless wonder from the west, and Joe Culmone, a cocky immigrant kid from Sicily, put their battle for 1950 jockey honors on a personal basis today.

The two little giants of horse racing will ride against each other in the Bowie Special, a $1,250 winner-take-all match race especially tailored for them.

Going into today's program Culmone had ridden 344 winners this year while competing in the east. Shoemaker, performing on the west coast and in Mexico, has booted home 341.

BEARS STOMP RAMS 24-14

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, a ruthless gang of gridiron killers, are on the loose again!

Playing their finest game of the season, the Bears stomped on Los Angeles, 24 to 14, yesterday, and not only ended the Ram's six-game winning streak, but dropped them clean into second place in the National football league's National conference.

The American conference battle also continued to rage as the new York Giants upset the Philadelphia Eagles, 7 to 3, to tie Cleveland's idle Browns for the lead. A pair of photo-finishes are in the making.

The Rams (8-3) conclude their season against Green Bay Sunday, while the Bears (8-2) still have the Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions left. So the Los Angeles cause is not completely hopeless.

It's much the same with the Giants and Browns, both sporting 8-2 records with two games to play. Philadelphia gets that long-awaited crack at the Browns in Cleveland Sunday, while the Giants entertained their cross-town rivals, the Yankees. Then the Giants play the Eagles in Philadelphia and the Browns visit Washington.

In other games, which had no bearing on the divisional races, the Green Bay Packers edged San Francisco, 25-21, and Washington outlasted Baltimore, 38-28.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Dodgers "hope" to name their 1951 manager at a press conference tomorrow.

The Cardinals, according to Fred Saigh's recent promise, will take some sort of managerial action this week.

That will leave only the Pirates, who'll have to make a decision before the winter meetings next week. We can't guess who'll get the call for any of the three jobs, but it's certain that Branch Rickey has enough sense of drama to make sure that the third act is the climax. Rickey, incidentally, won't find it easy to get credit for building a "young" team at Pittsburgh. At the start the Pirates are loaded with bonus babies Paul Pett and Bob Friend and such other valuable youngsters as Con Dempsey, Vern Law, Eddie Fitzgerald and Dale Coogan.

QUOTE UNQUOTE

Red Smith (N. Y. Herald-Tribune), analyzing the Tennessee-Kentucky game: "It is dogma in this country that when weather conditions are such as to make it anybody's game, it usually winds up as Gen. Neyland's."

MONDAY MATINEE

Look for some lively action at the Southern Conference December meeting when somebody brings up the matter of requiring non-conference teams to comply with conference eligibility rules when they play S. C. teams. Well, the Pacific Coast conference does that, but from this distance it seems to hurt the little schools that haven't a chance of beating the big guys. Texas is claiming some sort of record for Warren B. Woodson, Hardin-Simmons coach, who has tutored the nation's leading ground gainer three seasons since 1942 and now has one of the leading passers in "Model T" Ford. When Art Ferris who played end on Lehigh's unbeaten football team this fall needed 50 bucks for his admission deposit, he borrowed it from a Sayre, Pa., neighbor who was an alumnus of Lehigh's arch rival, Lafayette.

Boudreau Will Play For Bosox

Boston, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox announced today that Lou Boudreau, manager of the 1948 world champion Cleveland Indians, has accepted terms and will join the team as a player.

Boudreau was replaced recently as manager of the Indians by Al Lopez.

The Sox' announcement gave no details. It said merely: "General Manager Joe Cronin announced that Lou Boudreau has accepted terms of the Boston Red Sox and will join the team as a player."

The Sox added that to make room for Boudreau pitcher Gordon Mueller's contract has been sold outright to the Louisville farm team of the American association.

BOWL PICTURE STILL CLOUDY; TWO GAMES SET

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—College football is near the trail's end—except, of course, for Saturday's traditional Army-Navy game—and it seems the only thing certain about the New York's bowl games is that they'll be played on January 1.

Texas and Tennessee are in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and Kentucky is in the New Orleans' Sugar Bowl. Nothing else is definite.

Army Undefeated

So if the much-abused Midshipmen up and blast Army's 28-game undefeated string, don't be too surprised. The Star-Spangled classic, scheduled for Philadelphia's gigantic Municipal Stadium, could be the perfect kicker to this crazy season, which has seen the No. 1 position juggled like a hot potato.

Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma team finally seem to have nailed the elusive biscuit. They whipped Nebraska, 49-35, yesterday and now only Oklahoma A. & M. stands in their way to a Sugar Bowl bid.

That is, if Oklahoma, winners of 20 straight—football's longest winning string—want it. They've said no decision will be reached until after the A. & M. tussle.

California Vs. Michigan

The Rose Bowl picture is nearing completion. California and Michigan look like shoe-ins, but both must wait for formal approval from their respective conferences.

At Knoxville, Tenn., 100 tons of snow was cleared away in preparation for Tennessee's 7-to-0 victory over Kentucky's previously undefeated team. This upset, coupled with California's 7-to-7 tie with Stanford in the Berkeley sun, left only five major unbeaten, united teams in the nation.

They are: Princeton, Oklahoma, Wyoming, with nine victories; Army, with eight, and Loyola of Los Angeles, with seven. Loyola entertained Santa Clara yesterday.

Rose at Pasadena—California vs. Michigan.

Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky vs. Oklahoma.

Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs. Tennessee.

Orange at Miami—Miami vs. Clemson. Wyoming, Alabama or Fordham.

Gator at Jacksonville—Several of the above teams in the running.

$50,000 DAMAGE

ruined when the wind tore half of the barn roof off and carried it about 500 feet where it wrapped around a telephone pole along the highway.

Considerable loss was suffered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Durbin and daughter, the former Clearview school house property near the Littlestown-Gettysburg highway, when the house roof was torn off and the chimney was blown down by the raging winds early Saturday morning. The family had to vacate their home.

Chicken House Damaged

An unused chicken house, 16 by 40 feet, on the property of Walter F. Crouse, near Shue's Station, along Piney Creek, Littlestown, was lifted from its foundation and dumped upside down onto the Littlestown-Taneytown highway. A milk truck owned by Donald Six, Middleburg, Md., skidded off the side of the road and overturned, when the driver swerved to avoid hitting the chicken house. It was a tank type truck carrying 30,000 pounds of liquid sugar. The contents of the truck were transferred to another truck owned by Mr. Six.

Many telephone and electric lines, trees and television aerials were felled by the storm. Some parts of Littlestown were without electricity until late Saturday night.

A reception for about 80 persons was held in the church dining room immediately following the ceremony. The buffet table was decorated with a bouquet of white carnations, pink rosebuds and pink and white snapdragons. Tables for the reception had white candles and a maiden-hair fern.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Koontz will be at home at Bowman's Park, Hanover. The bride's going-away outfit consisted of a gray suit with black accessories.

York, Pa., Nov. 27—The eastern collegiate basketball season will get underway here on November 30 when four top-notch quintets meet in York for a charity doubleheader to be the feature attraction of this city's fourth annual Sports Night.

At Dickinson, star Wes Overholt was lost by graduation while at Swarthmore, Coach Howard Sipier, taking the reins for the first season, will have to do without his ace player, Captain Jim Reilly, who graduated in June.

Competing in the second contest will be the Engineers of Lehigh university, under the direction of Coach Tony Packer for the first time this season, and Western Maryland college, headed by veteran Coach Bruce Ferguson, former All-American Football star for the Westminster, Md., college.

The official Sports Night program will get off on an informal note with a banquet to be held at 5 p.m. at the Pine Tree Inn here. Mayor Felix S. Benzel will welcome the team, coaches, sportswriters and city and college officials to the city of York, and Coach Bob Hulton of Y. J. C. will be toastmaster.

Browder And Five Others Indicted

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Earl Browder, one time No. 1 American Communist, and five other persons were indicted today on charge of contempt of Congress.

The indictments were based on the refusal of the six to answer questions asked by Congressional committees or to give requested information.

Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip J. Jaffe were accused of contemptuously refusing to answer questions during a Senate investigation of "Communist-in-government charges."

Dr. Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and two others were indicted for refusing information asked by a House Lobby Investigating committee.

PITT TO MEET PENN STATE 11 NEXT SATURDAY

Philadelphia, Nov. 27 (AP)—Except for the postponed game between Pitt and Penn State, Pennsylvania's collegiate football season came to a snowy, windy end over the week-end.

The traditional meeting between Pitt and Penn State was snowed out Saturday and rescheduled for today, but the threat of more snow caused officials to move the date back a second time. Now the game is set for next Saturday at Pitt stadium.

Scranton just about bid for hope of a post-season bowl bid by dropping a 12-0 decision to Niagara yesterday. The game was another originally scheduled for Saturday and postponed one day because of the week-end storms.

Penn — a two touchdown pre-game favorite—was bogged down in the mud at Franklin field on Saturday and lost to Cornell 13-6. Penn Captain Francis (Reds) Bagnell picked up 41 yards rushing but was dropped for 25 yards loss in attempting to pass. He needed a net gain of 24 yards to set a new intercollegiate offensive record and missed by eight yards.

The game was played in a driving rain with high winds playing all sorts of tricks with the ball. The field was a quagmire.

Temple dropped a 26-21 decision to Holy Cross in a game played at Worcester, Mass., amid rain and gusty gusting out to 43 miles per hour. Holy Cross outrushed the Owls 325 to 64 yards but Temple held its own thanks to an air attack advantage of 97 to 57 yards.

LOWDER LEADS STATE SCORERS

Philadelphia, Nov. 27 (AP)—Halfback Jack Lowder of the unbeaten Franklin and Marshall Diplomats reigned today as the 1950 scoring champion of Pennsylvania.

Lowder amassed 78 points on 13 touchdowns in nine games for F. and M. to defeat four other players by six points in a hot, season-long race for scoring honors.

One touchdown behind Lowder were Gene Caterina of Temple, Lehigh's touchdown twins, Dick Gabriel and Dick Lehigh, and Dickinson's Wilbur Gobrecht.

Thirteen players scored more than 50 points.

New Orleans — Kentucky was named to play in the Sugar Bowl against opponent to be named later.

Racing
Inglewood, Calif. — Next Move ($2.90) won the Cinderella Stakes at Hollywood Park with Eric Guerin up. Willie Shoemaker rode two winners on the card to make his season total 341, three behind pacemaker Joe Colomone, who won one race at Bowie.

Bowie, Md. — Seward ($3.80) won the Prince George Autumn Handicap at the Bowie track.

Champ Jockies To Battle At Bowie

Bowie, Md., Nov. 27 (AP)—Wee Willie Shoemaker, the wordless wonder from the west, and Joe Colomone, a cocky immigrant kid from Sicily, put their battle for 1950 jockey honors on a personal basis today.

The two little giants of horse racing will ride against each other in the Bowie Special, a $1,250 winner-take-all match race especially tailored for them.

Going into today's program Colomone had ridden 344 winners this year while competing in the east. Shoemaker, performing on the west coast and in Mexico, has booted home 341.

BEARS STOMP RAMS 24-14

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Chicago Bears, a ruthless gang of gridiron killers, are on the loose again!

Playing their finest game of the season, the Bears stomped on Los Angeles, 24 to 14, yesterday, and only ended the Rams' six-game winning streak, but dropped them clean into second place in the National football league's National conference.

The American conference battle also continued to rage as the new York Giants upset the Philadelphia Eagles, 7 to 3, to tie Cleveland's idle Browns for the lead. A pair of photo-finishes are in the making.

The Rams (8-3) conclude their season against Green Bay Sunday, while the Bears (8-2) still have the Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions left. So the Los Angeles cause is not completely hopeless.

It's much the same with the Giants and Browns, both sporting 8-2 records with two games to play. Philadelphia gets that long-awaited crack at the Browns in Cleveland Sunday, while the Giants entertained their cross-town rivals, the Yankees. Then the Giants play the Eagles in Philadelphia and the Browns visit Washington.

In other games, which had no bearing on the packers edged San Francisco, 25-21, and Washington outlasted Baltimore, 38-28.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Dodgers "hope" to name their 1951 manager at a press conference tomorrow.

The Cardinals, according to Fred Saigh's recent promise, will take some sort of managerial action this week.

That will leave only the Pirates, who'll have to make a decision before the winter meetings next week. We can't guess who'll get the call for any of the three jobs, but it's certain that Branch Rickey has enough sense of drama to make sure that the third act is the climax. Rickey, incidentally, won't find it easy to get credit for building a "young" team at Pittsburgh. At the start the Pirates are loaded with bonus babies Paul Pettit and Bob Friend and such other valuable youngsters as Con Dempsey, Vern Law, Eddie Fitzgerald and Dale Coogan.

QUOTE UNQUOTE

Red Smith (N. Y. Herald-Tribune), analyzing the Tennessee-Kentucky game: "It is dogma in this country that when weather conditions are such as to make it anybody's game, it usually winds up as Gen. Neyland's."

MONDAY MATINEE

Look for some lively action at the Southern Conference December meeting when somebody brings up the matter of requiring non-conference teams to comply with conference eligibility rules when they play S. C. teams. Well, the Pacific Coast conference does that, but from this distance it hasn't hurt the little schools that seem to have a chance of beating the big guys. Texas is claiming some sort of record for Warren B. Woodson, Hardin-Simmons coach, who has tutored the nation's leading ground gainer three seasons since 1942 and now has a "Model T" Ford. When Art Ferris who played end on Lehigh's unbeaten football team this fall needed 50 bucks for his admission deposit, he borrowed it from a Sayre, Pa., neighbor who was an alumnus of Lehigh's arch rival, Lafayette.

Boudreau Will Play For Bosox

Boston, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox announced today that Lou Boudreau, manager of the 1948 world champion Cleveland Indians, has accepted terms and will join the team as a player.

Boudreau was replaced recently as manager of the Indians by Al Lopez.

The Sox' announcement gave no details. It said merely: "General Manager Joe Cronin announced that Lou Boudreau has accepted terms of the Boston Red Sox and will join the team as a player."

The Sox added that to make room for Boudreau pitcher Gordon Outler, for Boudreau had been sold outright to the Louisville farm team of the American association.

BOWL PICTURE STILL CLOUDY; TWO GAMES SET

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—College football is near the trail's end—except, of course, for Saturday's traditional Army-Navy game—and it seems the only thing certain about the New York bowl games is that they'll be played on January 1.

Texas and Tennessee are in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and Kentucky is in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl. Nothing else is definite.

Army Undeclared
So the much-abused Midshipmen up and blast Army's 28-game undefeated string, don't be too surprised. The Star-Spangled classic, scheduled for Philadelphia's gigantic Municipal Stadium, could be the perfect kicker to this crazy season, which has seen the No. 1 position juggled like a hot potato.

Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma team finally seem to have nailed the elusive biscuit. They whipped Nebraska, 49-to-35, yesterday and now only Oklahoma A. & M. stands in their way to a Sugar Bowl bid.

That is, if Oklahoma, winners of 30 straight—football's longest winning string—want it. They've said no decision will be reached until after the A. & M. tussle.

California Vs. Michigan
The Rose Bowl picture is nearing completion. California and Michigan look like shoe-ins, but both must wait for formal approval from their respective conferences.

At Knoxville, Tenn., 100 tons of snow was cleared away in preparation for Tennessee's 7-to-0 victory over Kentucky's previously undefeated team. This upset, coupled with California's 7-to-1 tie with Stanford in the Berkeley sun, left only five major unbeaten, untied teams in the nation.

They are: Princeton, Oklahoma, Wyoming, nine victories; Army, with eight, and Loyola of Los Angeles, with seven. Loyola entertained Santa Clara yesterday.

Rose at Pasadena — California vs. Michigan.

Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky vs. Oklahoma.

Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs. Tennessee.

Orange at Miami — Miami vs. Clemson. Wyoming, Alabama or Fordham.

Gator at Jacksonville—Several of the above teams in the running.

$50,000 DAMAGE

ruined when the wind tore half of the barn roof off and carried it about 500 feet where it wrapped around a telephone pole along the highway.

Considerable loss was suffered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Durbin and daughter, the former Clearview school house property near the Littlestown-Gettysburg highway, when the house roof was torn off and the chimney was blown down by the raging winds early Saturday morning. The family had to vacate their home.

Chicken House Damaged

An unused chicken house, 16 by 40 feet, on the property of Walter P. Crouse, near Shue's Station, along Piney Creek, Littlestown, was lifted from its foundation and dumped upside down onto the Littlestown-Taneytown highway. A milk truck owned by Donald Six, Middleburg, Md., skidded off the side of the road and overturned, when the chicken house swerved to avoid hitting the driver carrying 30,000 pounds of liquid sugar. The contents of the truck were transferred to another truck owned by Mr. Six.

Many telephone and electric lines, trees and television aerials were felled by the storm. Some parts of Littlestown were without electricity until late Saturday night.

Browder And Five Others Indicted

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Earl Browder, one time No. 1 American Communist, and five other persons were indicted today on charge of contempt of Congress.

The indictments were based on the refusal of the six to answer questions asked by Congressional committees or to give requested information.

Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip J. Jaffe were accused of contemptuously refusing to answer questions during a Senate investigation of "Communist-in-government charges."

Dr. Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and two others were indicted for refusing information asked by a House Lobby Investigating committee.

SPRY AND MIGHTY POWER PLANT

with a proud pedigree

Rushing into the cylinder, the fuel charge strikes the Turbo-Top piston—swirls into a tiny cyclone of terrific turbulence that gives a mighty power-pulse to the ignited fuel.

HERE you behold the up-to-the-minute version of a high-compression engine that has taught a whole industry something about fuel efficiency. Fact is, Buick pioneered the deep-breathing valve-in-head engine 47 years ago—and thus blazed a trail that aircraft engines—and more recently automobile engines—have followed. But don't let that ancient lineage fool you.

Today's Buick engine is not simply a valve-in-head. It's a fireball—which means that it uses fuel-saving, power-peaking principles that are found in no other motorcar on America's highways.

"This is all very well," you say, "but what does it do for me?"

Mister, that's what we'd like to show you.

Come settle yourself at the

Storms Burns Out Most Street Lights

The Friday night storm whipped high voltage lines across wires serving Gettysburg's overhead street lighting system and knocked out more than half of the street lights in town. Richard E. Drees, local Metropolitan Edison company manager, said today.

When 4,600-volt lines were snapped by the high winds they dropped across the service lines, burning out more than 150 of the town's 225 overhead lights. Thirty were burned out in Fairfield in a similar manner.

Drees and his local crew completed line repairs by 11 p.m. Saturday. On Sunday three men were kept here to replace the burned out street light bulbs and all others available were sent to York to aid in storm damage repair work there. They continued to work there today.

Bikle, Sr., of Fayetteville R. 1. Rev. Paul E. Horn, pastor of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony by candle-light at 4:30 p.m. Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bikle left immediately for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. They will reside in Gettysburg.

YW SOLICITORS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Sewell Kapp, chairman of the YWCA drive for Biglerville, today announced those who are assisting her in the campaign in that borough.

The canvassers will include Eileen Tipton, Mrs. Sarah Sunbury, Miss Louise Nary, Mrs. Beulah Schaeffer, and Mrs. Kapp. They plan to visit every home in the Biglerville area to seek donations toward the YWCA.

Mrs. Kapp noted that "the YWCA plays a very definite part in the life of all of us, whether we belong to any of the organizations that use it or not. I think most of us have at one time or another used the YWCA as a place to rest while in Gettysburg, or as a place to stay while waiting for the arrival of friends or of a car."

"One service of the YWCA is worth a donation—the service the YWCA serves by simply being there for our use when needed. The current drive is being held to pay off approximately $2,000 which was spent to renovate completely the YWCA building to make it more attractive and more convenient for our use."

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Gilbert, Biglerville, spent Thanksgiving day with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maddox, Lancaster. While in Lancaster they saw the Franklin and Marshall-Gettysburg football game. FIFTY YEARS AGO

High School Entertainment: About two hundred people attended the High School Literary last Friday afternoon and were much pleased with the rendering of the program, which consisted of tableaux, dialogues and readings from Longfellow's "Hiawatha." Special credit is due Paul Basehoar, Mary Swope, Mary Sheads, Garfield McAllister, Ralph Wierman, Maggie Culp, Cora Topper for the way they carried out the dialogue and to Janet Cunningham for her excellent reading of the poem.

Wedding Bells: Miss Julia Landis and Francis M. Aumen were married in St. Joseph's church, Baltimore, Md., Tuesday morning, November 27th, and are to visit at the home of the young man's father, Mr. F. G. Aumen, York street.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, a pretty wedding took place in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, when Frank N. Doersom, of this place, was married to Miss Lulu A. Schlosser, of Straban township. Rev. Father T. J. Crotty officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Doersom and the best man was Harry Althoff.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Waybright in Freedom township, was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 27th. The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Margia M., and Mr. Walter Shoemaker, of Harney, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Minnick. The bride was gown in fawn colored poplin and carried white chrysanthemums. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Marian Shoemaker. After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served.

Marriages: Deatrick-Thomas.—Nov. 20, at Arendtsville, by Rev. M. Snyder, Rudolph Deatrick to Miss Flora Thomas, both of Butler township.

Ensor-Heck.—Nov. 25, in this place, by Rev. V. T. Rue, Henry C. Ensor, of Parkton, Baltimore county, Md., to Miss Alice M. Heck, of this place.

Local Miscellany: It will be interesting news to Gettysburg people that the Crawford Bicycle Works, of Hagerstown, Md., of which Robert Crawford, a Gettysburg boy, is president, will be started up shortly with a big force of workmen.

The rendition of the labor play, "Strife," by the members of the Xavier Dramatic Association, for the benefit of the Gettysburg Grand Army Band was well attended on Friday night. The proceeds netted the Band $85.13. This sum places the band on a secure footing as it is now out of debt for the purchase of the instruments recently procured.

The historic Seminary "tan patch" has been restored and now the students can walk along "the straight and narrow way" with ease. For a number of years ashes have been placed on it, but these were covered with new tan.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MIND MENU

I read somewhere, long ago, the statement that if you knew what a person ate you would get a good idea of the sort of a person he was. Perhaps there is something to the idea, especially from a physical standpoint, but a far more accurate idea of a person can be gained by learning about what he feeds his mind. Learn what his Mind Menu is and immediately you can classify or appraise him, for it is what a person thinks that gets him apart.

Endless varieties of books are what make up the Mind's Menu. At the end of a little book called "Ex Libris Carissimis," by Christopher Morley, he has listed some hundred books that he loved as "Golden Florins." And that is what great books are. They are even more, for they feed the mind and nourish the soul.

"First sellers" of the day do not clutter my library shelves. They resemble too much the popular items on the menu cards of fashionable eating places. Interest in them is soon "gone with the wind." Great books, that have stood the test of years, are what should be on every well regulated Mind Menu. Many a book in my library never was a so-called "first seller" in its day, but most of them are read today by discriminating minds.

I keep books near to me. There are always fifty or so on the table where I write, and usually there are half a dozen of these that I am reading, off and on until finished. They are my Mind Menu, let me say, for the week. For example, my one Mind Menu a day for this week would read thus:

Appetizer

"Trivia," by Logan Pearsall Smith

Salad

"Still Seeing Things,"

by John Mason Brown

Entree

"Fifty Fabulous Years,"

by H. V. Kaltenborn

"Pathway to the Stars,"

by Harnett Kane

"The Purple Land,"

by W. H. Hudson

Desserts

The New Testament

Meditations of Marcus Aurelius

"Dreamthorp," by Alexander Smith

"John Mistletoe,"

by Christopher Morley

Anyone can get fun, mind health, and great personal enjoyment out of his own selected Mind Menu for the day, or week. Each week it could be changed to include bits of history, biography, nature writings, poetry, or inspirational books like those by Fulton Oursler, Monsignor Sheen, or Albert Schweitzer, which are of a religious cast.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Voices."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE

At times I have ventured, when sitting alone,

To sort out the happiest people I've known

And none were the richest and none had won fame,

But others were glad when to visit they came.

They all had had trouble and sorrow to bear,

But the heartaches of others they'd hasten to share.

Their homes weren't pretentious; their gardens were small,

But they always had blossoms from springtime to fall.

They were humble, God-fearing and patient and brave,

For the needs of their children they struggled to save.

They loved and were loved and content with their lot,

Which sometimes the wealthy and famous are not.

Save Costly Garden Tools by Checking Winter Rust

A gardener takes care of his tools and knows that the most dangerous time for them is the season of idleness. Careful cleansing in the fall and storage over winter will prolong their useful life.

The greatest enemy of tools is rust. This attacks the metal parts during the winter when the tools are in storage and does more damage than in the summer, when they are in constant use.

To check the rust, first clean all outside metal parts by washing thoroughly. Caked mud should be softened and removed. Then dry and cover the metal with a thin film of lubricating grease, or oil. All bearings of wheel tools should be oiled. It is possible to obtain new handles, where the old ones have broken, and these should be set in place this fall.

Spraying and dusting equipment should be cleaned thoroughly of all old spray materials. Take the nozzles of sprayers apart and clean. Oil the pumps of sprayers, and set them away without screwing down the tank caps, so that the rubber

New Oxford—Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Loper, near Pine Run, were hosts recently to their relatives from Long Island, N. Y. When they returned home they were accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Hedges, Bridgehampton, L. I., who had also been the Lopers' house guest.

Women of the Rosary society of the local Catholic church have been soliciting parishioners and friends for donations to assist with their presentation of a public card party to be given Wednesday evening, November 29, at the parochial hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Groff were visitors to Hanover during the past week.

Women of the NCCW of the local Catholic parish met Wednesday evening at the parochial hall.

Many persons were awarded prizes of turkeys, ducks and chickens Tuesday evening at the annual turkey party sponsored by the Lions club for their community betterment project. The party was in the new club room of the local Social and Athletic Club.

Satisfactory results are reported from the recent card party given at the parochial hall by the Holy Name Society of the Catholic church of this place.

The growing Catholic custom of the "Block Rosary," a gathering of neighbors at a private home to recite the Rosary for the improvement of world conditions, has come to this community, and the Rosary was recited this week by a group that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael H. Smith.

The Protestant denominations of this community met at the First Lutheran church on Wednesday evening for a public Thanksgiving service. The Rev. Amos Meyers, Methodist minister of this place, was the preacher for the service, and music was by the choir of the Lutheran church.

SAFETY FROM TRICHINOSIS

Trichinosis is a painful and often fatal disease of human beings caused by eating raw or improperly cooked pork that contains the tiny parasites called trichinae. Nobody knows when pork is infested by these little larvae. Likewise many people are affected with trichinosis who are not aware that this is the trouble. That physicians often overlook symptoms and diagnose the trouble as some other ailment is evident from the fact that trichinosis is widely prevalent yet rare is the case where a patient is told that he is suffering from trichinosis.

Two important truths about this danger and its relation to eating pork should be stressed. First, pork is an excellent form of meat and need not under any consideration be shunned because of its possible harboring of trichinae. Second, proper cooking or refrigeration under particular temperature regulation will completely destroy the larvae.

There are several ways by which an unsuspecting person may carelessly take trichinae into his body. The most common way is by eating that which is rare—a dangerous and foolish practice. Next, butchers and meat cutters often use a knife to cut raw pork and then use the same tool for slicing such pre-cooked meats as scrapple, bologna and other loaf-meat products. Housewives often take a taste of raw meat mixtures containing pork to determine proper seasoning. Then unthinking or ignorant persons sometimes deliberately eat raw pork or raw meat mixtures containing uncooked pork.

Thorough research has demonstrated that a temperature of 137 degrees F. or higher kills these parasites. If pork is cooked until it is well done, a liberal margin of safety is insured. And pork should always be cooked "well done."

Likewise, persons who have a freezing unit may easily and effectively destroy these trichinae by holding pork at a temperature of 5 degrees F. or lower for at least 20 days. Of course, quick-freezing usually calls for a temperature of zero or lower, therefore, pork is rendered safe if held at these lower levels for the prescribed period or longer.

Farmers bear considerable responsibility in producing pork free from trichinae. Experiments prove that approximately 6 hogs out of every 100 that are fed raw garbage harbor these parasites but that only one hog of 100 fed on a grain ration is infested. And it is probable that hogs which range on rotated pastures show even a more remarkable rate of lower infestation. It is believed that garbage which contains scraps of uncooked pork is the most

Records To Fall At Farm Show

Harrisburg, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Farm show, already the biggest indoor agricultural exposition in the world, is on the way toward another record-shattering run in 1951.

The five-day show, opening January 8, already is assured of a record high in premium awards and in livestock competition entries.

In addition, the poultry exhibit, machinery display, entertainment program and many other features, will outdo last year's record showing.

The 1951 agrarian class also will also celebrate a triple anniversary. It will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the first state fair, the 35th anniversary of the present farm show, and the 20th anniversary of the giant 15-acre farm show building.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

High School Entertainment: About two hundred people attended the High School Literary last Friday afternoon and were much pleased with the rendering of the program, which consisted of tableaux, dialogues and readings from Longfellow's "Hiawatha." Special credit is due Paul Bessner, Mary Swopes, Mary Sheeds, Garfield McAllister, Ralph Wierman, Maggie Culp, Cora Topper for the way they carried out the dialogue and to Janet Cunningham for her excellent reading of the poem.

Wedding Bells: Miss Julia Landis and Francis M. Aumen were married in St. Joseph's church, Baltimore, Md., Tuesday morning, November 27th, and are to visit at the home of the young man's father, Mr. F. G. Aumen, York street.

At 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, a pretty wedding took place in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, when Frank N. Doersom, of this place, was married to Miss Lida A. Schlosser, of Straban township. Rev. Father T. J. Croby officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Doersom and the best man was Harry Althoff.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Waybright in Freedom township, was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 27th. The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Margie M., and Mr. Walter Shoemaker, of Harney, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Minnick. The bride was gown in fawn colored poplin and carried white chrysanthemums. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Marian Shoemaker. After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served.

Marriages: Deatrick - Thomas.—Nov. 20, at Arendsville, by Rev. M. Snyder, Rudolph Deatrick to Miss Flora Thomas, both of Butler township.

Local Miscellany: It will be interesting news to Gettysburg people that the Crawford Bicycle Works, of Hagerstown, Md., of which Robert Crawford, a Gettysburg boy, is president, will be started up shortly with a big force of workmen.

The rendition of the labor play, "Strife," by the members of the Xavier Dramatic Association, for the benefit of the Gettysburg Grand Army Band was well attended on Friday night. The proceeds netted the band $83.13. This sum places the band on a secure footing as it is now out of debt for the purchase of the instruments recently procured.

The historic Seminary "tan patch" has been restored and now the students can walk along "the straight and narrow way" with ease. For a number of years ashes have been placed on it, but these were covered with new tan.

The Philadelphia North American's automobile, which has been making a tour of the State, was in town from Saturday till Monday, and on Monday morning gave a number of our citizens a free ride. In the afternoon it left for Hanover.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MIND MENU

I read somewhere, long ago, the statement that if you knew what a person ate you would get a good idea of the sort of a person he was. Perhaps there is something to the idea, especially from a physical standpoint, but a far more accurate idea of a person can be gained by learning about what he feeds his mind. Learn what his Mind Menu is and immediately you can classify or appraise him, for it is what a person thinks that gets him apart.

Endless varieties of books are what make up the Mind's Menu. At the end of a little book called "Ex Libris Carismis," by Christopher Morley, he has listed some hundred books that he loved as "Golden Florins." And that is what great books are. They are even more for they feed the mind and nourish the soul.

"First sellers" of the day do not clutter my library shelves. They resemble too much the popular items on the menu cards of fashionable eating places. Interest in them is soon "gone with the wind." Great books, that have stood the test of years, are what should be on every well regulated Mind Menu. Many a book in my library never was a so-called "first seller" in its day, but most of them are read today by discriminating minds.

I keep books near to me. There are always fifty or so on the table where I write, and usually there are half a dozen of these that I am reading, off and on until finished. They are my Mind Menu, let me say, for the week. For example, my one Mind Menu a day for this week would read thus:

Appetizer

"Trivia," by Logan Pearsall Smith

Salad

"Still Seeing Things," by John Mason Brown

Entrees

"Fifty Fabulous Years," by H. V. Kaltenborn

"Pathway to the Stars," by Harnett Kane

"The Purple Land," by W. H. Hudson

Desserts

The New Testament

Meditations of Marcus Aurelius

"Dreamthorp," by Alexander Smith

"John Mistletoe," by Christopher Morley

Anyone can get fun, mind health, and great personal enjoyment out of his own selected Mind Menu for the day, or week. Each week it could be changed to include bits of history, biography, nature writings, poetry or inspirational books like those by Fulton Oursler, Monsignor Sheen, or Albert Schweitzer, which are of a religious cast.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Voices."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE

At times I have ventured, when sitting alone, To sort out the happiest people I've known And none were the richest and none had won fame, But others were glad when to visit they came.

They all had had trouble and sorrow to bear, But the heartaches of others they'd hasten to share. Their homes weren't pretentious; their gardens were small, But they always had blossoms from springtime to fall.

They were humble, God-fearing and patient and brave. For the needs of their children they struggled to save. They loved and were loved and content with their lot, Which sometimes the wealthy and famous are not.

Save Costly Garden Tools by Checking Winter Rust

KEEP YOUR GARDEN TOOLS IN A HANDY RACK. IT IS ECONOMY.

A gardener takes care of his tools and knows that the most dangerous time for them is the season of idleness. Careful cleansing in the fall and storage over winter will prolong their useful life.

The greatest enemy of tools is rust. This attacks the metal parts during the winter when the tools are in storage and does more damage than in the summer, when they are in constant use.

To check the rust, first clean all outside metal parts by washing thoroughly. Caked mud should be softened and removed. Then dry and cover the metal with a thin film of lubricating grease, or oil. All bearings of wheel tools should be oiled. It is possible to obtain new handles, where the old ones have broken, and these should be set in place this fall.

Spraying and dusting equipment should be cleaned thoroughly of all old spray materials. Take the nozzles of sprayers apart and clean. Oil the pumps of sprayers, and set them away without screwing down the tank caps, so that the rubber gaskets are not compressed. Dusts should be cleaned and the outside metal parts oiled, but instead of oil, powdered graphite should be used on the inside.

Make a resolution when your tools have been cleaned, to keep them clean in the future. A rack in which every tool has its place will be found worthwhile.

In other words, egg production is rarely satisfaction from flocks kept in drafty, damp, single-walled houses. Sanitation to hold winter illnesses to a minimum and housing comfort to permit hens to turn a high percentage of their feed into eggs are two important facts to remember over winter.

Of course, male birds should not be housed with laying hens except when eggs are to be used for hatching. Fertile eggs are unfit for human consumption in winter as well as in summer. And the poultry owner who buys chicks for flock renewal purposes has no excuse, much less a reason, for having any roosters at all.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Loper, near Pine Run, were hosts recently to her relatives from Long Island, N. Y. When they returned home they were accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Hedges, Bridgehampton, L. I., who had also been the Lopers' house guest.

Women of the Rosary society of the local Catholic church have been soliciting parishioners and friends for donations to assist with their presentation of a public card party to be given Wednesday evening, November 29, at the parochial hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Groff were visitors to Hanover during the past week.

Women of the NCCW of the local Catholic parish met Wednesday evening at the parochial hall. Many persons were awarded prizes of turkeys, ducks and chickens Tuesday evening at the annual turkey party sponsored by the Lions club for their community betterment project. The party was in the new club room of the local Social and Athletic Club.

Satisfactory results are reported from the recent card party given at the parochial hall by the Holy Name Society of the Catholic church of this place.

The growing Catholic custom of the "Blessed Rosary," a gathering of neighbors at a private home to recite the Rosary for the improvement of world conditions, has come to this community, and the Rosary was recited this week by a group that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael H. Smith.

The Protestant denominations of this community met at the First Lutheran church on Wednesday evening for a public Thanksgiving service. The Rev. Amos Meyers, Methodist minister of this place, was the preacher for the service, and music was by the choir of the Lutheran church.

SAFETY FROM TRICHINOSIS

Trichinosis is a painful and often fatal disease of human beings caused by eating raw or improperly cooked pork that contains the tiny parasites called trichinae. Nobody knows when pork is infested by these little larvae. Likewise many people are affected with trichinosis who are not aware that this is the trouble. That physicians often overlook symptoms and diagnose the trouble as some other ailment is evident from the fact that trichinosis is widely prevalent yet rare is the case where a patient is told that he is suffering from trichinosis.

Two important truths about this danger and its relation to eating pork should be stressed. First, pork is an excellent form of meat and need not under any consideration be shunned because of its possible harboring of trichinae. Second, proper cooking or refrigeration under particular temperature regulation will completely destroy the larvae.

There are several ways by which an unsuspecting person may carelessly take trichinae into his body. The most common way is by eating pork that is rare—a dangerous and foolish practice. Next, butchers and meat cutters often use a knife to cut raw pork and then use the same tool for slicing such pre-cooked meats as scrapple, bologna and other loaf-meat products. Housewives often take a taste of raw meat mixtures containing pork to determine proper seasoning. Then unthinking or ignorant persons sometimes deliberately eat raw pork or raw meat mixtures containing uncooked pork.

Thorough research has demonstrated that a temperature of 137 degrees F. or higher kills these parasites. If pork is cooked until it is well done, a liberal margin of safety is insured. And pork should always be cooked "well done."

Likewise, persons who have a freezing unit may easily and effectively destroy these trichinae by holding pork at a temperature of 5 degrees F. or lower for at least 20 days. Of course, quick-freezing usually calls for a temperature of zero or lower, therefore, pork is rendered safe if held at these lower levels for the prescribed period, or longer.

Farmers bear considerable responsibility in producing pork free from trichinae. Experiments prove that approximately 6 hogs out of every 100 that are fed raw garbage harbor these parasites but that only one hog of 100 fed on a grain ration is infested. And it is probable that hogs which range on rotated pastures show even a more remarkable rate of lower infestation. It is believed that garbage which contains scraps of uncooked pork is the most

Harrisburg, Nov. 27 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Farm show, already the biggest indoor agricultural exposition in the world, is on the way toward another record-shattering run in 1951.

The five-day show, opening January 8, already is assured of a record high in premium awards and in livestock competition entries.

In addition, the poultry exhibit should always be cooked so the deepest portions are cooked well done. Sausage should never be served when the inner portion of the cake remains red. These and other simple practices and precautions will eliminate all danger without in any manner reducing the nutritive benefits pork brings to the family bill of fare.

PTA DISCUSSES SCHOOL TOPICS

The November meeting of the Emmitsburg public school Parent-Teacher association was held in the school auditorium Wednesday night. President George Wilhite opened the meeting with "America" and the pledge to the flag by the assembly.

George Martin, local representative member of the county school board, reported that contractor Allen Frezer, Taneytown, Md., was the successful bidder for the addition to the Emmitsburg school building. The matter of monthly dances sponsored by the PTA received favorable action by the organization. The president announced that he would appoint a committee to conduct these dances. The food and rummage sale committee reported that approximately $115 was realized from the sale last Saturday. President Wilhite thanked all for their generous contributions and help with the sale.

Home room mothers were appointed for the year. A panel discussion followed the business part of the meeting. A number of teachers and parents discussed "Some Present Day Procedures in Education." Miss Edna Stull, second grade teacher, discussed "Difficulties Encountered in Writing Numbers." In order to help the parents to understand these procedures, Mrs. George Wilhite assisted the teacher by asking questions. Miss Helen Martin, fourth grade teacher, assisted by George Martin discussed "Reading on the Child's Level." It was brought out that in each grade there are children of varying degrees of ability. Mrs. Mary Scott, seventh grade teacher assisted by Mrs. Andrew R. Eyster explained the core program. This panel brought out that best explanation of core is that it is "general education on an experience basis, where the various phases of learning are accompanied by activities." This discussion also emphasized that correlation of the various school subjects in the core program is an important factor. Mrs. Mary Hoke, discussed The Junior Scholastic, a weekly newspaper used in the ninth grade class. Mrs. Glenn Springer assisted in this discussion. Eugene Wood, shop teacher, assisted by Weldon B. Shank presented a discussion of the present objectives of the industrial arts program, pointing out that originality and skills are essentially important in this field but where these do not exist the child must develop what assets he has. Hand tools are first to be dealt with and mastered and then the power tools, it was pointed out. Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, English teacher acted as moderator for the panel discussion.

The next PTA meeting will be held on December 20th. The Emmitsburg Grange will unite with the PTA for this meeting.

The school's Christmas program under the direction of Mr. Janicke and Mrs. Caldwell will be given at this meeting, December 20 at 8 p.m. A social time with refreshments was held after the meeting.

MANY HUNTERS
TAKE TO HILLS

Harrisburg, Nov. 27 (AP)—It takes a lot more than snow, winds and floods to keep some nimrods from going deer hunting.

So, notwithstanding the elements, Pennsylvania's controversial two-day antlerless deer season opened today with a good number of red-clad hunters taking advantage of it.

But the large majority of hunters in the western and central sections couldn't even get out of town. They were either snowbound or hemmed in by floods.

The state Game Commission was worried. It had set the special two-day deer season preceding the regular nine-day buck shooting to cut down an over-population of deer that had been plaguing farm crops.

"Without a large number of hunters in the field today and tomorrow, we are likely to be faced with a very serious food problem in the coming months," said Thomas D.

The antlerless deer season opened at 9 a.m. in all but 14 counties. Those areas had petitioned the commission to abrogate the season there. Under normal conditions, an estimated 625,000 nimrods, including 25,000 out-of-state residents, would have been on hand for the opening.

Antlerless deer may not be shot in Bedford, Cameron, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Elk, Franklin, Fulton, Juniata, Mifflin, Perry, Pike, Snyder and Sullivan counties. After today, shooting hours for the concluding day of the deer season and the entire buck season, are from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Only one deer—doe or buck, not both—may be killed by each licensed hunter.

Broker Robbed Of

Cash And Jewelry

Philadelphia, Nov. 27 (AP) — Four gunmen broke into the North Philadelphia home of a 55-year-old real estate broker last night and robbed him of $4,500 in cash and nearly $1,000 in jewelry.

Alexander Novak told police he answered his doorbell to find himself faced by a man about 37-years-old who forced his way in, waving an automatic pistol.

Novak said three companions, all armed with automatics or revolvers, forced him and his wife and two sons to lie down on the floor while they gathered up their loot. Then the Novaks were forced into a recreation room and the telephone wires cut as the robbers made their escape.

NAMED FOR STORM

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 27 (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quinn came up with this name for their baby girl born at the height of the storm: Gale.

Bremen, Germany, was known in ancient times as the "Rome of the North" because it was a Catholic religious center.

WOLFORD FINED

on charges of burglary and larceny. The three were directed to renew their bail and return for sentence December 18.

Gets Six Months

Herman Eugene Kuykendall, Hanover R. 3, charged with driving his car after his license had been suspended, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and the costs.

H. Jay Huff, York real estate

dealer, was sentenced to six months in the county jail and the court ordered an examination made of his condition immediately. In the event the sentence has to stand, the court said, a parole will be considered in 60 days. Huff had been found guilty of fraudulent conversion in connection with the sale of an Abbottstown property. Up for sentence Saturday morning Huff first sought a new trial, which was overruled, then told of difficulties he is having in other courts and accused District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter with "trying to destroy 31 years of my life."

Glenn T. Miller, Gettysburg R. 5; Roy J. Wolfe, Littlestown R. 2; Tolbert R. Guise, Biglerville R. 1, and Mark A. Sanders, Gettysburg R. 2, all charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, were each

U.S. TO ANSWER

CHINESE REDS

Lake Success, Nov. 27 (AP) — The United Nations plans a counter-attack in the United Nations today against Chinese Communist charges of American aggression in Formosa.

With a new Red offensive blazing against U. N. troops in Korea, U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin has prepared 20 stinging questions to ask Communist spokesman Wu Hsiuchuan when he shows up for his first appearance before the Security Council.

The exact nature of the questions are a carefully-guarded secret, because—as a U. S. source said—"We don't want to do the Reds homework for them."

Presumably, however, they will probe the reasons for Red China's entry into the Korea War, what they are doing there, and what their future intentions are.

Austin is expected to accompany the questions with a demand that Peiping get its soldiers out of Korea. Wu will probably counter with a demand that the U. S. get its forces out of Korea and also order the Seventh fleet out of Formosan waters, allowing Peiping to launch its long-delayed attack against that island stronghold of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

H. Jay Huff, York real estate dealer, was sentenced to six months in the county jail and the court ordered an examination made of his condition immediately. In the event the sentence has to stand, the court said, a parole will be considered in 60 days. Huff had been found guilty of fraudulent conversion in connection with the sale of an Abbottstown property. Up for sentence Saturday morning Huff first sought a new trial, which was overruled, then told of difficulties he is having in other courts and accused District Attorney Daniel E. PTA DISCUSSES SCHOOL TOPICS

The November meeting of the Emmitsburg public school Parent-Teacher association was held in the school auditorium Wednesday night. President George Withide opened the meeting with "America" and the pledge to the flag by the assembly.

George Martin, local representative member of the county school board, reported that contractor Allen Pezzer, Taneytown, Md., was the successful bidder for the addition to the Emmitsburg school building. The matter of monthly dances sponsored by the PTA received favorable action by the organization. The president announced that he would appoint a committee to conduct these dances. The food and rummage sale committee reported that approximately $115 was realized from the sale last Saturday. President Withide thanked all for their generous contributions and help with the sale.

Home room mothers were appointed for the year. A panel discussion followed the business part of the meeting. A number of teachers and parents discussed "Some Present Day Procedures in Education." Miss Edna Stull, second grade teacher, discussed "Difficulties Encountered in Writing Numbers." In order to help the parents to understand these procedures, Mrs. George Withide assisted the teacher by asking questions. Miss Helen Martin, fourth grade teacher, assisted by George Martin, discussed "Reading on the Child's Level." It was brought out that in each grade there are children of varying degrees of ability. Mrs. Mary Scott, seventh grade teacher assisted by Mrs. Andrew R. Eyster explained the core program. This panel brought out that best explanation of core is that it is "general education on an experience basis, where the various phases of learning are accompanied by activities." This discussion also emphasized that correlation of the various school subjects in the core program is an important factor.

Mrs. Mary Hoke, discussed "The Junior Scholastic, a weekly newspaper used in the ninth grade core class. Mrs. Glenn Springer assisted in this discussion. Eugene Wood, shop teacher, assisted by Weldon B. Shank presented a discussion of the present objectives of the industrial arts program, pointing out that originality and skills are essentially important in this field but where these do not exist the child must develop what assets he has. Hand tools are first to be dealt with and mastered and then the power tools, it was pointed out. Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, English teacher acted as moderator for the panel discussion. The next PTA meeting will be held on December 20th. The Emmitsburg Grange will unite with the PTA for this meeting.

The school's Christmas program under the direction of Mr. Janicke and Mrs. Caldwell will be given at this meeting, December 20 at 8 p.m. A social time with refreshments was held after the meeting.

MANY HUNTERS TAKE TO HILLS

Harrisburg, Nov. 27 (AP)—It takes a lot more than snow, winds and floods to keep some nimrods from going deer hunting.

So, notwithstanding the elements, Pennsylvania's controversial two-day antlerless deer season opened today with a good number of red-clad hunters taking advantage of it.

But the large majority of hunters in the western and central sections couldn't even get out of town. They were either snowbound or hampered by floods.

The state Game Commission was wetted. It had set the special two-day deer season preceding the regular nine-day buck shooting to cut down an over-population of deer that had been plaguing farm crops.

Without a large number of hunters in the field today and tomorrow, we are likely to be faced with a very serious food problem in the coming months," said Thomas D.

Simon and daughters, Marie and Suzanne, of York. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, of Washington, Md., and Mrs. Wilbur Naylor and daughters, Janice and Arlene, and son, Wilbur, Jr., and Miss Betty Fream, of Taneytown, Md.

TO SHOW CHURCH
FILM TUESDAY

"For Good or Evil," a film on stewardship, will be shown for the first time in this area on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran church. The film was made in Arendtsville and some scenes were taken in the Warner hospital. Many familiar faces will also be seen. Everyone is invited to see the film.

"Stewardship" was the sermon topic of Rev. George H. Berkheimer, secretary of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, United Lutheran Church of America, guest preacher at St. John's Lutheran church on Sunday morning.

Saturday afternoon the Tuck-a-bach Sunday school class of St. John's Lutheran church served 125 roast turkey suppers in the social hall of the church.

Hold Thank Offering
The annual Thank Offering service was held Sunday morning at St. Paul's Lutheran church, with the pastor, Rev. David S. Kammerer, delivering the message, "Triumph of Missions." A solo "Bless This House" by Brahe was sung by Robert DeGroft, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Bankert, church organist. Mrs. Mahlon Bucher, president of the Abigail Kammerer Missionary society, explained to the congregation the missionary work of the United Lutheran Churches of America. A duet, "Thanks Be To God," was sung by Mrs. John H. Riley and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder. The offering of the morning is to be used to further work in the Christian Missions.

Tuesday at 7:30, instead of Monday as previously announced, the Starr Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will serve a banquet in the social hall of the church to the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Walter Groce and the "Friendship Circle" class taught by Mrs. Lloyd Humphert.

The altar flowers in Redeemer's Reformed church were placed there on Sunday by Mrs. Lloyd Stavely and Glenn Miller, in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller. The bulletins for the morning were given in memory of Mrs. Emma J. Henry, by her son, Elder Dewey M. Henry.

A congregational meeting was held immediately following the Sunday morning worship service at Redeemer's. A. C. Garland, vice-president of the consistory, presided over the meeting. The tentative budget for the coming church year was suggested to the congregation and accepted by it. The total current expenses were set at $6,855 and the total benevolent expenses at $2,162, making a total of estimated costs for the coming year of $9,017.

The visitors for the Kingdom Roll Call of Redeemer's Reformed church will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the social hall of the church. At 9 p.m. that evening the Young Men's Sunday school class of the church, taught by Dr. Richard M. Phreaner, will meet in the social hall.

Senior choir rehearsal will be omitted this week at Redeemer's Reformed church.

Meetings Scheduled
The Littlestown Homemakers will hold their semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Two Taverns. The study of patterns will be discussed by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics representative.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the post home.

The regular dinner meeting of the Littlestown Rotary will be held at 6:30 p.m. at Schottie's hotel. An illustrated talk and special music will be the features of the evening. The International Service committee composed of Luther D. Snyder, chairman, Arthur E. Bair, Frank Krock, Edward Leister, Richard A. Little, Edward T. Richard, Sr., and P. Emory Weaver will be in charge of the meeting.

Judith Cecelia Riley, infant daughter of J. Charles and Clara Belle Schackel Riley, North Queen street, was baptized Sunday morning at 11:30 a.m. in St. Aloysius Catholic church by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan. The paternal aunt and uncle of the child were the sponsors, James and Mary Rita Riley.

Rev. Feeman Speaks
Rev. Oscar E. Feeman, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns and St. Luke's Lutheran church, White Hall, delivered the message to the large congregation at the Sunday evening union service at Centenary Methodist church, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, pastor. The invocation was given by the Rev. Charles B. Rebert followed with a responsive reading led by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The scripture was read by the Rev. Mr. Rebert and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Kammerer. Rev. Rebert received the offering and the Rev. Mr. Feeman, who spoke on "Faith," was introduced by his former college classmate, Rev. Mr. Kammerer. Mrs. Harvey B. Simons, church organist, accompanied for the hymn singing. Rev. Rebert pronounced the benediction.

The union service next Sunday evening will be held at 7:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Rev. Nelson Brown, pastor of Heidelberg Reformed church, York, will be the guest minister. The Rev. Mr. Brown is a native of Littlestown, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown, South Queen street.

The annual Thankoffering service was held at the regular worship on Sunday morning at St. Luke's Lutheran church, White Hall, the Rev. Oscar E. Feeman, pastor. The Rev. Mr. Feeman spoke about missionary work. Part of the service was in charge of the Missionary society of the church. Miss Betty Hartlaub, president of the society, opened the service. A solo, "Bless This House" by Brahe was sung by Miss Mary Feeman, daughter of the pastor, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Spangler, church organist. A Thanksgiving poem was read by Mrs. Hazel Pickinger followed by a skit concerning Thanksgiving boxes over seas, presented by Miss Betty Hartlaub and Mrs. Guy McCabe. "Thanksgiving Prayer," a solo, was sung by Miss Hylda Klinefelter accompanied by Mrs. Spangler. The remainder of the service was in charge of the pastor. The Bishop's War Relief committee is conducting a nationwide drive for warm winter clothing for the refugees of Europe and Asia through the Catholic churches of America. Anyone in town who wishes to make a contribution is asked to leave their things in the vestibule of St. Aloysius Catholic church or in the parish hall.
